THE EXPENSE INCURRED

BY THE APPOINTMENT OF

HIGH COMMISSIONER OF CANADA,

IN LONDON, ENGLAND.

LUXURIES PROVIDED BY CANADIAN TAXPAYERS.

In 1880 Sir John Macdonald desired to have another vice-regal position at his disposal, and accordingly carried a Bill through Parliament authorizing the appointment of a Lord High Commissioner for Canada, with a permanent office in London, England, at an annual salary of $10,000 and contingencies. He alleged that economy could be secured by the appointment of such an official, as he would act as agent for Canada, doing away with the occasion for members of the Government visiting England on public business, and that through him payments of interest on loans could be made, thus saving to the country the enormous sums paid to the Financial Agents of Canada for commissions, etc. Since then members of Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet have visited England more frequently than ever, and larger sums in commissions, etc., have been paid to the usual financial agent than previously. The public records prove that the High Commissionership cost the country, down to 1885, including contingercies, travelling expenses, residence, income and parochial taxes of the High Commissioner, etc., the enormous sum of $114,-740.

In 1883 Sir Charles Tupper, acting High Commissioner, conceived the idea of having the Government of Canada purchase and furnish an official residence for him in a fashionable location in London. Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet acted upon the suggestion, and, as a result of that expenditure, a Return was presented to the House of Commons during the Session of 1885, in accordance with a resolution proposed by the Hon. Mr. Blake, giving a detailed statement of the $42,700 spent for that purpose. In that Return (No. 38, 1885), among many others of an equally reprehensible character, appear the the following items:—

It remains for the overburdened tax-payers of Canada to say whether they are satisfied with the Tory leaders providing their colleagues with such luxurious dissipation at the public expense, as the above extracts from documents presented to the House of Commons prove are existing under the present regime.

The Electors have the remedy in their own bands by lending their assistance to drive from power those who have proved so recreant to the great trust that was committed to their care in 1878.
